Geodesis launches three new scented candles for Christmas beauty beauty launch DIARY feature

Geodesis is launching three new scented candles for Christmas: Jasmine from India, a sweet floral fragrance that contains soothing, balmy notes; Havana from Cuba, which has woody, smoky, spicy notes; and Patchouli from Sumatra. Founded by fragrance specialists Émilie and Norbert Hiblot, Geodesis was created with the idea of associating a fragrance with a region of the world. Each infusion is available in a selected choice of Scented Candle, Ambience Reed Diffuser, Room Spray, plus Perfumed Oils and accessories and is approved by The International Fragrance Association. The Geodesis home fragrances are available from selected boutiques, Cologne and Cotton, The Conran Shop and John Lewis stores nationwide with prices from £20.
